Jack Shade

Founder

You can have everything you want in life, if you will just help enough other people get what they want. - Zig Ziglar

This quote deeply changed Jack's life and over the last 39 years, Jack has continuously pursued the opportunity to help others. He has been a consultant, coach, and influencer for several executives, leaders, performers, and organizations across multiple industries over the past several years. During his leadership at Aflac, he developed multiple teams throughout the country. He served as the Director of Sales for RevLocal at a time when they experienced explosive growth. Jack has been blessed to serve thousands and is looking forward to continuing this journey.

Jack has been married to his wife Kris for 27 years and they have three wonderful children. He enjoys spending his spare time on any golf course and would love to host you on his home course in Denver, NC.
