Andrew Bleecker

Executive Growth Partner

For the past decade Andrew has served as a Senior Civil Designer, CAD Manager and Team Leader in the Civil and Environmental Engineering industry. Andrew is people and process focused, blending technical knowhow and organization with team coordination. He brings to Infinite CXO his proven experience building teams and team culture, and process improvements in enterprise level technology implementations.

Andrew believes deeply in being a lifelong learner and is always seeking the next adventure or subject to dive into. This year he returned to school full time to study Data Analytics online at Western Governors University and is working on his yoga teacher certification through Yoga Farm Ithaca.

He lives and works from his home in Madison, WI with his son and his cat. On any given weekend you can catch him baking bread, biking, trolling the Dane County Farmers Market for fresh local produce and product, hiking the Ice Age Trail, or running a Dungeons and Dragons game for his son and friends.
